MR. AND MRS. WILLIAM WALKER

Early Settlers Honored By Friends On 50th Wedding Day

Mr. and Mrs. William Walker celebrated their golden wedding anniversary at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Walker on Friday, Sept. 14. In spite of the weather and muddy roads, over 50 relatives and friends gathered to extend their best wishes to the honored couple.

Mr. and Mrs. Walker were married at the Government Parish Church, North Riding, Yorkshire, England. They came to Canada in 1913 and settled at Athabasca. In 1917 they took up a homestead near Boyle, where they still reside.

Their two daughters and two sons, Mrs. Lloyd McNeil of Evarts, Ernest of Stettler, Mrs. Eric Clintberg and Stanley, both of Boyle, were all present for the happy occasion.

A cedar chest was presented by the family. while friends in the district gave them an electric kettle, electric clock, mixette and chenille beadspread. Several bouquets of flowers and congratulatory cards were also received.

Lunch was served, highlighted by a three-tiered cake, made by Mrs. Ernest Walker. Songs were sung and an enjoyable afternoon was had by all.

TOUR HAWAII

TALK TIPS FOR HAWAII TRIP

No use getting Hu-hu when you get pilikia—instead, just make it pau hana and go home to Hiamoe.

After a short time in Hawaii, you won't need anyone to tell you the meaning of this experssion. It means: No use getting angry when you get in trouble, instead, just knock off work and go home to catch some sleep!

Hawaiian expressions are flamboyant, to say the least, and it wouldn't be akamai (smart) to leave the islands without a few of them tucked under the tongue.

At birthday parties, people shout "Hauoli la Hanau" instead of happy birthday. At Christmas the greeting is "Mele Kalikimaka" and "Hauoli Makahiki Hou" at New Year.

You will soon learn that "Kanes" is men and "Wahines" is women. If you take your children along, they then will be called "keikis", the Hawaiian word for little ones. And, by the way, you'll soon get into the habit of adding "wikiwiki" at the end of a command to them —this means hurry up!

All other expressions you've ever learned for dear old amour will fade out of sight once you've learned Hawaii's words for "I love you". "Aloha au ia oe"! What's more, there isn't another word in any dictionary that can compare to "Aloha" which you will hear when you leave the islands—or when you return.

Heavy Rain Damages Crops

The heavy rains of the past week put a halt to harvesting operations and construction work for a time. Farmers report much damage was done to supplies of hay as the heavy rain, driven by strong winds penetrated bales and stacks, causing heavy spoilage. For many this is disastrous since feed is scarce due to the extremely dry summer.

Bear, Cows Alike In Dark

BOYLE — When Herb Calvert went for the milk cows at dusk, recently, he set the dog on what he thought was a cow but on further investigation proved to be a bear. The latter gave chase to the dog.

Herb returned home for the gun and, accompanied by Douglas, went in search of the bear.

Although it was quite dark by this time, he shot at the animal, which then climbed a tree. After a second shot it fell to the ground, where it was quickly put out of its misery by a third shot.

Canadian Widow To Be Honored

VATICAN CITY — The Pope will preside over a meeting of cardinals on Oct. 22 when they vote on the beatification of a Roman Catholic widow who became known 200 years ago as the "strong woman of Canada," a Vatican source said here.

The meeting, of the Vatican's Congregation of Rites, will be held at the Pope's summer residence of Castel Grandolfo.

The cardinals will vote on two mircales said to have been worked by God through the intercession of Marie Therese Marguerite de Juville of Montreal. She died Dec 23, 1771, at the age of 60.

Though widowed with six children, she founded the Institute of the Sisters of Charity, known as the Grey Nuns.

She is expected to be beatified at a ceremony in St. Peter's Basilica in the Vatican before next Feb. 11, the end of special yearlong marian celebrations at Lourdes.

Canadian Business Leaders Call For Action On $860,000,000 Line

EDMONTON — An immediate start on the Great Slave Lake railway extension was urged by the northern development conference, but the delegates left standing the touchy question of the route.

The McMurray route is apparently favored by the big railway companies and extension of the NAR line would certainly benefit such towns as Thorhild, Boyle and Lac la Biche as supplies move north.

In the closing sessions the 300 business and industrial leaders voted that the 400-mile $860,000,000 railway should be built from the mineral-rich Pine Point area south to connect with existing railways "along a route which would contribute most to the economy of Canada."

Previously, government officials attending the conference had indicated that the CNR and CPR favor the route through McMurray, in northeastern Alberta, but noted that the Alberta government still has not said whether it favors this route or one through Grimshaw, in northwestern Alberta.

Resources Minister Hamilton has said that an announcement on construction of the railway probably will not be made by the federal government until the Alberta government makes known its stand.

Remand Two In Shooting

ATHABASCA — Two men have been charged in connection with a shooting incident last week in which five persons suffered minor injuries.

Ronald White and Donald Wild were remanded to Sept. 24 and released on bail when they appeared in court on charges of criminal negligence.

The arrests followed a report that four blasts from a shotgun had sprayed a farm home near here inflicting injuries described as not severe on two adults and three children.

Ontario CCF Party Gives New Policy

TORONTO— The Ontario CCF party released its new policy program in a 17-page document.

The draft blueprint, although open for change at the Oct. 11 provincial conference, represents basic CCF thought on how to run Ontario.

On basic planning, the program says: "A CCF government will plan deliberately for continuous expansion of the province's economy."

Mineral wealth: "A CCF government will greatly increase the revenues paid to the provincial treasury by those profiting from the privilege of exploiting these resources . . . "

Forest resources: "The object of CCF forest policy will be to develop permanent forest communities which will provide living and working conditions attractive to a stable working force . . ."

Agriculture: "The CCF will maintain and strengthen farm marketing legislation, and even more important, it will stand behind that legislation when powerful corporations try to frustrate or destroy the democratic right of farmers to operate producer-controlled marketing plans . . ."

Public enterprise: "Extension of public ownership will be an integral part of CCF economic planning. Some basic industries, such as iron and steel, can only be operated as part of a national plan, but others are appropriate for ownership at the provincial level. "The distribution of natural gas within the province is the foremost example at the present time . . ."

Education "If we are to meet the challenge of the modern age, we must have a bold, imaginative approach to education. The present government's failure to comprehend the real nature of our needs is illustrated by its drift to lower standards . . ."

Human right: "Present antidiscrimination legislation will be broadened to cover discriminatory practices in all fields, and more important, it will be enforced . . ."

Health services: "The CCF believes that this province is now able to move forward to complete health insurance . . ."

WITH THE WOMEN'S INSTITUTE

The regular meeting of the Lac la Biche W.I. was held Sept. 16 at the home of Mrs. Steve Hamar with 23 ladies present.

Since there will be no need of the present library cupboards when the library room now under construction at the town hall is finished, the ladies discussed the advisability of selling a couple of the smaller cupboards and storing the rest for the present. This was agreed to.

October is mental health month and it was decided to answer the roll call at the next meeting with a small gift, suitable for a mental health patient. A talk on "mental health" will be given by Mrs. Woynarowich, and a donation of $10.00 will be forwarded to the Mental Health Association.

Correspondence included "Thank You" notes from Mrs. Lee of Boyle for flowers sent to her from the conference, Father McGrane for a donation to the Sea Cadets, a poem from Mrs. L. Vincent of her own composition thanking the ladies for flowers while she was in hospital, and a letter from the Amber Valley W.I., expressing thanks for the conference and extending an invitation to the Lac la Biche W.I. to meet with them at their regular meeting.

A letter was also read from Mrs. Howes, provincial president, expressing regret for being unable to attend the conference held here in July.

Canvassers chosen for the C.N.-I.B. drive for funds to be held Oct. 4, will be Mrs. H. Linnel. Mrs. M. Hamar, Mrs. D. Kolstad, Mrs. R. Greene, Mrs. G. Filipchuk and Mrs. E. Woynarowich.

After a discussion, it was decided to offer the W.I. dishes to the Memorial Hall committee for use in the hall, the dishes to be the property of the hall and to remain there.

Following the business session, Mrs. M. Maccagno, who accompanied her husband, the M.L.A. for this district, to the dinner given by Premier Manning in honor of Princess Margaret, gave an interesting account of the dinner in Banff. July 28. Mrs. Maccagno delighted the ladies with her comments and word picture of the memorable evening she and her husband and the other members of the legislature and their wives, as well as other government officials, spent in company with Princess Margaret, during her recent visit to Banff. The invitation and menu cards Mrs. Maccagno had as souvenirs were examined with great interest by the ladies, some even wishing they could keep them as mementos.

Mrs. Coast, official delegate to the conference held in July, gave a comprehensive report of the day's activities.

A dainty lunch was served by the hostess, assisted by Mrs. D. Kolstad, brought the pleasant evening to a close.

The October meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. G. Filipchuk, with Mrs. Karasinski as co-hostess.

New Bond Issues Set By Ottawa

OTTAWA—Two new government bond issues, a $600,000,000 short-term loan and this year's Canada savings bond issue, have been announced.

The announcement came hard on the heels of the closing of the giant $6,400,000,000 conversion loan issue. No final figures are available on the outcome of that issue, but recent figures showed that $5,175,000,000 in wartime victory bonds had been converted.

A statement by Finance Minister Fleming issued here said the conversion loan has been "immensely successful . . . thus making conditions more favourable for the raising of new money requirements."

As usual, no limit has been placed on the new Canada savings loan —the 13th of the savings bond series. Last year's savings loan had total sales of $1,217,000,000.

The new series, going on sale Oct. 14, will offer the public a 15-year bond, maturing Nov. 1, 1973, with an effective interest rate of 4.19 per cent if held to maturity.

The interest coupon for the first year will pay 3½-percent, and coupons for the remaining 14 years will be at 4¼ percent.

This rate compares with the effective interest of 4.46 percent on last year's Canada savings loan, which was a 12-year issue.

The new savings bonds will be offered for sale at par up to Nov. 14. As in previous savings bond issues, holders will be able to sell them in banks at any time at full face value plus interest due.

The limit which any individual may hold is set at $10,000.

Liberal Leader To Visit Edmonton

OTTAWA—Liberal Leader Pearson embarks this week on a three-weeks grass-roots tour of western Canada which will include a visit to Edmonton on October 2nd. He will also visit the maritime provinces in an effort to revitalize his party's organization in this region, too.

It will be the first such trip by Mr. Pearson since the March 31 general election when his party lost all its Commons representation in the four Western Provinces and managed to win only eight of the 35 federal seats in the Atlantic provinces.

He leaves Toronto by air for Vancouver to open the tour which will see him work back east to the Lakehead and then hop to the Maritimes, where his trip ends Oct. 16.

Before hitting the politcal trail, Mr. Pearson will fly to Boston to preside at the opening of the annual assembly of the Atlantic Treaty Association and to be guest speaker that night at a dinner tendered by the American Council on NATO.

On his first full day in Vancouver he will receive an honorary doctorate of laws from the University of British Columbia along with Prime Minister Diefenbaker, CCF Leader M. J. Coldwell and three others.

His political itinerary in Alberta:

Sept. 30, Calgary, press conference, meeting of southern Alberta Liberals and fund-raising dinner at night; Oct. 1, visits to Carstairs, Olds, Bowden, Innisfail and night meeting at Red Deer; Oct. 2, Edmonton press conference and Liberal women's reception.

Canadian Mink Breeders Meet

EDMONTON—A glamor show of furs highlighted the three-day conference on marketing and advertising.

Canadian mink ranchers have been developing new shades and hues through mutation breeding methods as well as raising standard pelts.

Fur farming generally is a $3,000,000 industry in Alberta. It is to a large extent centred around two northern lakes, Lesser Slave and Lac la Biche, where mink ranching provides a home industry and is closely linked with the catch of around 5,000,000 pounds annually of "rough fish" not otherwise saleable, but a major part of mink diet of upwards of 225,000 ranch mink.

6-DAY WEEK

Edmonton City Council's bylaws committee was asked to study a proposal from the Hudson's Bay Company that would allow Edmonton retail stores to operate six days a week.

Pope Issues 4,000-Word Statement To Medical Group On Marriage, Etc.

VATICAN CITY — Pope Pius XII has published a pronouncement of major importance on the Roman Catholic church's teachings on marriage, childbirth, contraception, "test tube" babies and hereditary blood diseases.

The Vatican press office issued the 4,000 word text of a speech in French which the Pontiff delivered to a large international group of medical experts attending a congress in Rome on blood diseases.

The Pope advocated medical checks and blood tests before marriage and said that engaged couples with blood defects may be advised against marrying although they cannot be forbidden to do so.

The pontiff reaffirmed the Catholic Church's ban on:

1. Artificial insemination.
2. Direct sterilization, or the removal of sexual glands or organs in order to prevent transmission of hereditary defects.
3. Voluntary adultery.
4. Birth control methods other than the "rhythmic" technique which can be used when grave reasons justify it.

The Pope said that, for couples advised against having children, adoption raised no religious and moral objections.

But he added: "From the religious point of view it must be required that the children of Catholics should be adopted by Catholics."

SPECIFIC QUESTIONS

The Pope devoted a large part of his speech to answering seven specific questions put to him by the medical experts.

One involved the "rh factor" in which incompatibilities of the blood of a man and wife often mean death to the child. The Pope was asked if a marriage could be nullified if "rh situation" was so exceptionally grave as to be a lethal factor from the first pregnancy, thus totally preventing birth.

The Pope answered:

"You suppose that the spouses did not intent to bind themselves to have children who would die prematurely because of a hereditary defect.

"But the simple fact that hereditary defects entail the death of children does not prove the absence of intention to marry.

TRAGIC SITUATION

"This situation is evidently tragic but the reasoning (that it may cause nullity of the marriage) is based on a consideration which does not apply.

"The object of the marriage contract is not the child but accomplishment of the natural matrimonial act or, to be more precise, the right to accomplish this act.

"This right remains completely independent of the heredity situation of the child and even of its ability to live."

The Pope again condemned all kinds of artificial insemination "because this practice is not included among the rights of spouses and because it is contrary to natural law and Catholic morals."

VIOLATES PRINCIPLE

He added that artificial insemination among unmarried people violated the principle of natural law which says that "any new life must only be procreated in a valid marriage."

He said: "Voluntary adultery condemns itself whatever the biological, eugenic or juridical motives by which people might try to justify it.

"No spouse may place conjugal rights at the disposal of a third person."

The pontiff summed up Catholic teaching on sterilization by saying "direct sterilization is not authorized by the right of man to dispose of his own body and cannot therefore be considered a valid means of preventing the transmission of a defective heredity."

Son Born To 'Quint' In Montreal

MONTREAL—One of the famed Dionne quintuplets gave birth to a boy and her first words were:

"This is marvelous."

Mrs. Cecile Langlois whose own birth caused a sensation 24 years ago and her seven-pound, four-ounce son are both doing well.

So is her husband, CBC camera technician Philippe Langlois, who paced the floor like any other father to-be at Ste. Justine Hospital.

The baby will be called Claude—after one of her father's middle names.

Cecile, one of the four surviving quints, was married last Nov. 23 to Mr. Langlois from Quebec City.

After seeing Cecile briefly, her husband dashed to a telephone to spread the good news to her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Oliva Dionne in Corbeil, Ont. He invited them to the Roman Catholic baptismal ceremony.

Also expecting shortly is Annette, a second of the quints, who was married Oct. 12, 1957, to Germ[illegible] Allard of Montreal.

Marie, the third of the 24-year-old quints to marry, was wed quietly here Aug. 11 to Florent Houle, 33-year-old court clerk. Still unwed is Yvonne who graduated as a nurse last year from Notre Dame de 'Esperance hospital in suburban St. Laurent.

Emilie, the fifth quint, died in an epileptic seizure in 1954.

Train Stopped To Save Calf

LLOYDMINSTER — The kindness of the old northwest has not entirely faded from our plains.

On a train from Marsden to Lloydminster, at the bottom of the Buzzard grade, Mrs. C. Wilford happened to look out of the railway coach window and noticed a calf, which seemed to have its head stuck under some board across the top of a well on a nearby farm.

Mrs. Wilford drew the attention of the conductor to the calf's plight and he immediately stopped the train.

Three members of the crew walked back and extricated the calf, which, they said, would have drowned.

Bishop of Barrackpore To Visit Athabasca

BISHOP RONALD BRYAN

Bishop Ronald Bryan, the first Bishop of the Diocese of Barrackpore, is to visit Athabasca Sept. 25, and will address members and friends of the Anglican Church. This is an opportunity for the entire deanery, which includes such parishes as Slave Lake, Smith, Colinton, Boyle and Lac la Biche, to hear this message from India.

Bishop Bryan was born in the Punjab, India, of Irish parentage. His father, a civil engineer, one of a County Wicklow family of sixteen, left Ireland for India at the turn of the century. The bishop is a graduate of the Bishop Cotton School in Simla, which is in the Diocese of Amritsar, and supported by the Canadian Church.

At the age of 17 he began work as a journalist. Three years later the call to the ministry became too strong to be disobeyed and he entered Bishop's College, Calcutta, to train for the priesthood. After his studies there and at Cuddeston College, Oxford, he was ordainey deacon and priest in York Minister in 1929. Following an assistant curracy in England, he returned to Calcutta where for 20 years he served as vicar of St. Thomas Church, the largest Anglo-Indian parish in that Diocese.

From 1948 to 1951 he was Archdeacon of Calcutta. In 1951 he was appointed by Bishop Aurobina Mukerjee, Metropolitan of India, to organize the new Diocese of Barrackpore, and to be its first bishop. The Diocese comprises, roughly speaking, all that part of the State of West Bengal which lies east of the River Hooghly.

The Diocese of Barrackpore has three main centres of work: Darjeeling, the famous tea area; Nadia District, in which at one time the Church Missionary Society labored for many years, and the Sunderban District in which the S.P.G. missionaries began evangelical work. Today, a woman is the only foreign missionary in the Diocese, the others are native Indians.

Becaue of the lack of financial support the Metropolitan of India asked the Canadian Church to give practical help and encouragement to this new diocese and devoted missionary bishop.

Bishop Bryan is a strong supporter of the Boy Scout movement, holding the position of District Scout Commissioner for Barrackpore, and assistant state commissioner for West Bangal.

The bishop has been invited by the primate of all Canada and the executive committee of the Missionary Society of the Anglican Church of Canada to visit Canada for six weeks this year following the sessions of the Lambeth Conference.

The Bishop will speak at a luncheon given in his honor, the proceeds of which will go toward work in India.

MAN GETS JAIL TERM ON RAPE CONVICTION

A Calgary father of two children was sentenced to two years less one day in Lethbridge jail for the rape of a 21-year-old girl. Alex Williamson, 31, of 315 26 Ave., N.W., received the sentence from Mr. Justice J. M. Cairns in Supreme Court last week.

The trial arose out of charges laid last January by the girl, a nurse's aide, that Williamson had raped her on a gravel sideroad near Forest Lawn.

In testimony given Monday the girl, dressed neatly in a charcoal suit, told the court she had agreed to babysit for Mrs. Williamson for a three-day period.

On the night of Jan. 21 she said she paid a visit to her father in Col. Belcher Hospital and Mr. Williamson drove her into town, and waited for her.

She said he drove over to pick up a radio tube and then showed her some homes in the Wildwood area. From there they drove to the Sunset Drive - in and sat through a movie before going out to a cafe in Forest Lawn to dance to juke box music.

But, she said, when they left the cafe, Williamson turned east instead of west into town, and stopped the panel truck he was driving on a sideroad.

She told the court she scratched his face and tried to fight him but that eventually he had raped her.

Counsel for Williamson, Eldon Woolliams, MP, gave no evidence for the defence. In his review he argued there were no rips on the girl's clothing to show that she had fought the man.

Mr. Justice Cairns agreed with Mr. Woolliams that corroboration was necessary in this case but said that pictures of the accused taken shortly after his arrest, showed deep scratches in his face.

He said evidence of blood stains on her clothing corroborated her story, and also the fact that the girl's mother testified that her hair was matted and her clothing dishevelled.

Mr. Justice Cairns agreed that the girl was "asking for trouble going around with a married man" and that "she had put herself in a rather stupid position."

In deciding sentence, Mr. Justice Cairns said he would pass as lenient a sentence as the case allowed, taking into account the fact that Williamson is married. has two children and no previous record.

Sustained Consumer Demand Contrasts Sharply With U.S., Bank Report Says

Retail trade has been a major source of strength this year, states the current issue of the Commercial Letter published by The Canadian Bank of Commerce. When unemployment reached its highest post-war level during the winter and spring, it was to be expected that there would be some falling off in retail sales, but in each of the first five months of the year, total retail sales were higher than in the corresponding months of 1957, the letter says.

The sustained consumer demand in Canada has contrasted sharply with conditions in the United States, where consumer expenditure was lower during the winter months, and the major sustaining force in the economy appears to have been increased government expenditure, the letter says.

One factor in the higher total of Canadian retail sales has been population increase, the letter says. Between March 1957 and March 1958 the population of Canada rose by 3.2%. This increase naturally caused a greater total demand for food, clothing and other non-durable goods. It also had an influence on housing construction and the sale of durables, particularly home appliances.

Per capita retail sales were 4.2% higher in the first half of 1958 than in the corresponding period in 1957, if sales of new and used automobiles are omitted, the letter says.

Another, and perhaps a more important factor has been public confidence, the letter says. This factor can be illustrated by ... study of the buying pattern. The public has continued to purchase homes and appliances, as well as non-durable goods, showing a confidence in continued income, but some families have postponed the replacement of automobiles. Yet, while sales of the North American-type passenger cars declined by 1.1% in the first half of the year, the proportion of new cars purchased outright, rather than on installments, showed a slight increase.

Another strength factor, the letter says, is a 7% increase in personal savings on deposit with the chartered banks over last year's figures. Thus the continued buying has not been achieved at the expense of savings, and the high level of savings forms a solid backing for future purchases.

. . . and here is the beginning of responsible government, in the cradle of its origin—the classroom. These are the lawyers, the doctors, the teachers, the statesmen and scientists, the business leaders of tomorrow.

The important thing is that we have enough blackboards in enough classrooms to take care of our future crop of leaders. And the need is getting greater every year.

In Canada today, we now have more than 5½ million children under 15 years of age. To educate them properly we are going to need 9,000 more teachers immediately and upwards of 38,000 additional classrooms over the next 10 years.

THE INCREDIBLE engineering skill of the ancient Egyptians in building a towering treasure city is pictured in Cecil B. DeMille's Production "The Ten Commandments," playing Oct. 10-16 at the Dreamland Theatre. Overseeing the raising of a giant obelisk in the above scene are Charlton Heston as Moses, Yul Brynner, Sir Hardwicke and Vincent Price.

Matchless Star Cast In Cecil B. DeMille's Mightiest Production

The greatest cast ever assembled for a motion picture, portrays the revered and colorful figures of the eternally dramatic story of Exodus in Cecil B. DeMille's Production "The Ten Commandments." The monumental dramatization of the life of Moses, which opens a local engagement Oct. 10 - 16 at the Dreamland Theatre, Boyle, re-creates a score of Biblical personages that are beloved by Christian, Jew and Moslem, and the utmost care went into the vital problem of casting.

The key roles of Moses and his royal opponent Rameses II went, respectively, to Charlton Heston and Yul Brynner: to Heston for the qualities of sincerity and spirituality DeMille saw in him, for his proven dramatic ability and because he had the enormous physical stamina required of an actor who actually had to follow in Moses' footsteps through the deserts of the Sinai Peninsula and along the sun-broiled slopes of Mount Sinai; and to Brynner for his natural aura of power and strong physical appeal.

The complicated role of the seductive Throne Princess Nefretiri, who loves Moses but when rejected turns against him, went to one of the screen's top dramatic actresses, Anne Baxter; Edward G. Robinson is Dathan, the traitorous slave overseer; Yvonne De Carlo is Sephora, Moses' faithful wife; Debra Paget is the gentle water girl, Lilia; and John Derek portrays Joshua, Moses' trusted lieutenant throughout the Exodus.

Starring also are top-liners Sir Cedric Hardwicke, Nina Foch, Martha Scott, Judith Anderson and Vincent Price. "Supporting" roles are taken by a dozen more famous performers, and the number of extras in the tremendous bondage-in-Egypt, Exodus and Golden Calf orgy scenes tops 25,000, the greatest number in the history of motion pictures.

WASHING BLANKETS

Washday for blankets should be bright and breezy, although you don't want too strong sunlight to yellow the wool, or a high whipping wind to damage the edges. So get the weather's co-operation before you begin.

Steps in washing:

1. Fill your machine with extra rich tepid suds. Use mild soap and lukewarm water.

2. Wash one large or two small blankets as a load.

3. Shake blankets well before washing to remove loose dust. Sponge satin or bound edges if they are very soiled.

4. Wash three minutes in the machine or squeeze briskly up and down in a tub by hand. Very soiled blankets may require an additional two minutes. Never add soap to the last rinse with the idea that it will keep the wool soft. This procedure may damage the wool and cause yellowing.

5. Rinse the blankets in lukewarm water at least twice. Do not wring. To remove moisture set wringer very loose. Then fo'd blanket straight and even and guide through the wringer. If hand wrung, do so by pressing and squeezing out as much water as possible without twisting.

Now hang the blanket in a shady spot and if possible over two parallel lines a foot or two apart. Do not use clothespins. Hang a striped blanket with the stripes vertical. Squeeze out excess water from hems at intervals throughout the drying process. When the blanket is half dry, reverse the position — vertical for horizontal. This is a precatuion against sagging.

Last but not least press the blanket binding with a warm iron and brush the nap on the blanket, working in one direction only. This fluffs up the nap, making your blanket warmer and softer. Now it is ready for use.

Recipe for Communism: Let the rich get richer, and poor get poorer.

ON SEPT. 12, Sir Winston Churchill and his wife "Clemmie" celebrated their golden wedding anniversary. They are now together at the Churchill summer home at Chartwe'l, but reports are that, for health reasons, they will make permanent home in the south of France and visit Britain only for short periods during the summer.

Name Third Man To Liquor Board

Colin G. Macgregor, 48, an employee of the provincial department of municipal affairs for 24 years, was appointed to the Alberta Liquor Control Board.

The appointment was announced by Premier Manning.

He replaces Harry W. J. Maddison who served with the board for 3½ years.

Monday's appointment is the second in two weeks for the board. Earlier, James F. Falconer was named to succeed D. B. MacMillan, who retired several months ago.

The board remains at a strength of three members, with George Clash as chairman.

Ask Opinions On Unemployment

Candidates in this year's municipal elections are to be asked for their opinions on the current unemployment situation according to a plan drafted by the Unemployment Committee of the Edmonton and District Labour Council.

The committee was recently formed to study the unemployment problem and to bring in recommendations to the labour group. According to David Graham, chairman of the committee, a program to combat unemployment is being formulated and will be submitted to all civic candidates at a public meeting to be held in the Masonic Temple on September 30.

To co-ordinate the committee's activities with other local groups it was decided to appoint John Hart, Labour Council Vice-President and W. Gray, committee secretary to the Edmonton "Do-It-Now" Campaign.

The buyer who always hunts a bargain fails to realize that he gets just what he pays for, or a little bit less.

A compliment a day keeps the quarrels away.
